

CAREER FIT • GY SAT

Wrong field at 25? You're not starting over.

A switch is a bridge, not a reset — you carry more across than you think. 📌

Swipe for the 4 steps →

STEP 1 → 2

Start with clarity, not courage.

1Name the target role

Be specific — ‘product marketing’, not ‘something in marketing’.

2List your transferable skills

Communication, tools, ownership — they carry across fields.

 Most of what you’ve learned isn’t tied to your old job title.

STEP 3 → 4

Close the gap, then prove it.

3Close the ONE real gap

One focused course or cert for the skill you're actually missing.

4Do one proof project

A small real thing in the new field — before you fully jump.

 You don't need 10 new skills. Usually just one, plus proof you can do it.

THE MINDSET

Reframe the whole thing.

YOU'RE NOT BEHIND

You're bringing a second perspective most people in the room don't have —
and employers pay for that.

Frame the switch as a story — what you learned,
why you're moving — not an apology.

CROSS THE BRIDGE

A bridge, not a reset.

- 1 Name a specific target role
- 2 List transferable skills
- 3 Close the one real gap
- 4 Do one proof project
- 5 Tell it as a story
