

A REMINDER • GY ASSIST

Got rejected? Give it 24 hours.

Then do these. One no isn't a verdict on you — here's how to move through it. 🙌

THE NEXT 24 HOURS

Feel it. Don't act on it.

✗ Don't reply angry or hurt

✗ Don't doom-apply to 40 jobs tonight

✗ Don't decide it means you're not enough

Close the laptop. It's one no — not a verdict.

AFTER 24 HOURS

Now, three calm moves.

- ✓ Send a gracious thank-you — doors reopen
- ✓ Ask one line of feedback, if you can
- ✓ Note the one thing to improve — then move on

 The graceful reply is remembered. Plenty of hires start as a 'no, but stay in touch'.

THE REFRAME

What the 'no' usually means.

Most rejections are about fit, timing or budget — not your worth.

The people who get hired are usually just the ones still applying next week. 💪

REST, THEN KEEP GOING

One no isn't a verdict.

- 1 Feel it — don't bury it
- 2 Don't reply angry
- 3 Don't doom-apply
- 4 Thank them, ask feedback
- 5 One lesson, then move on

When it gets heavy, you don't have to white-knuckle it alone. GY Assist is here. 💙
